Honorable, Mr. Jayantrao Patil mentioned that the success achieved by RIT's alumni over the last 41 years has significantly contributed to the college's national and international reputation. Wherever you go in the world, RIT alumni are seen working in significant positions. Successful alumni will make educational institutions successful and provide appropriate guidance to the new generation. Today, higher educational institutions need their alumni more than ever. Dr. P. V. Korale mentioned that since its inception, RIT has undergone numerous transformations. Starting with a few engineering branches aimed at training rural engineers, the institute now offers globally recognized branches like Robotics and Automation, AIML, and Mechatronics. Additionally, RIT has received approval from AICTE to start a new course called "Designing Program in Collaboration with Foreign Universities." Students enrolled in this program will have the opportunity to pursue undergraduate, postgraduate, and MBA courses both at RIT and foreign universities. Furthermore, working professionals will be able to continue their education through various courses offered at RIT. With such initiatives, RIT is on its way to becoming a prime university, and alumni have played a significant role in this journey.

Nazir Shaikh, President of the RIT Alumni Association, emphasized the importance of alumni participation and urged alumni to support RIT's growth directly and indirectly. Chief Alumni officer, Manzooramad Mirza, welcomed the attendees and gave the preamble speech, noting that since 1983, Two thousand five hundred six (2506) alumni from 21 countries and 20 states in India registered for the event, with 1570 alumni participating offline and several alumni and people from abroad participated in the gathering, including Undergraduate, diploma, MBA, M. Tech, BBA, and PhD graduates.

For the first time in the college's 41-year history, such a large number of alumni participated in the event. The gathering commenced with the presence of alumni from the first batch of 1983, an unexpected coincidence. Many alumni from various countries attended the event. Retired teachers who contributed to the growth of the college were felicitated on this occasion. The cultural department of the college and alumni presented a musical evening. The program was hosted by Pravin Desai, Deepali Kadam, and P. N. Pawar. Dr. Jagulkar expressed gratitude for the event, and all alumni coordinators organized the program.
